

Eco Church News—February

We are upgrading the regular Eco Tips slot to 'Eco Church News'. There will still be the usual short monthly call to action, but we have also made space to include events you might be interested in.

Your Eco Action for February

Please could you prayerfully consider what part you could play in St Andrew's Eco Church journey. The current committee is very small, and we'd love a few more people to come along and inspire us, help bounce ideas around, and to generally get stuck in. There is also plenty of scope for 'supporters' who might help with specific events, do some research to help us meet one of the Eco Church survey goals, or to help us engage with the wider community. The Eco Church goals are divided into 5 main topics of: worship, buildings, nature, lifestyle and community & global engagement—so whatever your interest, there will be something for you.

Please contact Sue Free or Ali Fisher for more information, or contact the Church office to pass a message on.

Local Eco events in the next month

Monday 3 February—HI Sustainability have their next 'Conversations About' event. It's 7.30pm at the Salvation Army Hall (room at the back – enter via the side gate). The topic is Wildflowers and Gardening for nature. Dan Mace will be there to pass on his experience of growing a wildflower lawn. (Entry fee—a small donation towards the cost of hall hire is welcomed).
